We simply do not have the infrastructure to support another 200 houses and the cars this will bring too. GP surgeries and schools are already full, there is no room for expansion. The roads are narrow and already used as a rat run. We only have one shop to serve all the people already living here and it's really challenging to drive and park there as it is so access is a real problem now, even without any more new houses. There is already existing congestion at bathpool and in Creech St Micheal village. The plan is out of character with the entrance to the village and the existing houses there, they are mainly low level or one story. The plans to build on ground that has traditionally been used for recreation for many years and its the last barrier between Creech St Michael and the motorway.
