Information :

The village centre and main roads of Creech St. Michael are not big enough to support the amount of traffic coming through now. With more housing and an increased population this will only get worse. Peadestrians are constantly at risk in the village centre now, with increased traffic this risk will without doubt increase. This is a small village which has already grown due to new building. Any more can not be sustained. The planning application currently is for 200 more homes but in reality over the course of the planning process this will increase. If 200 homes is beyond what we know can be coped with, anything above this is, will simply cause chaos to the village and the whole community.
